BIANA Fashion Show & Sales Event

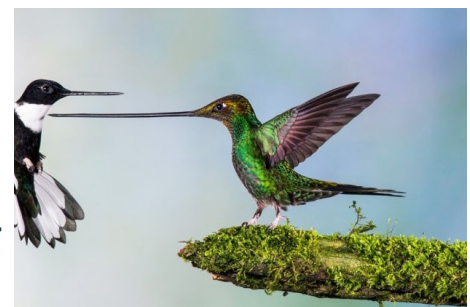

We are happy to invite you to the presentation of the BIANA Fall/Winter 2018 collection.

During the event, BIANA will show a selection of the new styles for the winter, and you will have the opportunity to be the first ones to try on and buy these beautiful garments with a significant discount!

Reflections of the Inner Self, dreams and visions of nature by Jan van der Greef

Jan is internationally recognized as an innovative scientist and a passionate nature photographer. His photography has been awarded internationally in prestigious contests such as the Wildlife Photographer of the Year and the European Wildlife Photographer of the Year. In his keynote, Jan will share his personal photographic journey through images of wonderful places and amazing animals. Being physically challenged by polio since the age of 4, nature photography has guided him to moments of change, learning to accept and go beyond the limits experienced before, opening a world full with gifts of nature.
